REVIEWS

“An intriguing look at the world of S&M, integrated with an interesting plot and two romances, this story has nice character development. The informative...S&M scenes are handled with class.”

-- 4 Stars – Susan Mobley, Romantic Times BOOKreviews

“At Her Command is a well-written romantic suspense and Ms. James does a fine job of threading heavy elements of humor throughout her story. At the same time, several nicely placed and well-developed emotional scenes help to strengthen the reader’s interests. Domino and Dalton are a well-matched duo and a full cast of characters – not the least of which is “Smokey”, the DEA’s Chinese Crested, drug-sniffing dog – help to make this a sincerely delightful read. With a suggestive setting and love scenes that are satisfyingly sensual, At Her Command is sure to appeal to a large readership.”

-- 5 Angels – Jen H., Fallen Angel Reviews

“Ms. James has written a great book full of action, suspense and really erotic love scenes.”

-- Rating: 4 ½ Hearts – Maura Frankman, The Romance Studio

“This is a romantic suspense that is written with a wry comedic slant. Frankly, the submissive clients are a hoot--they're a fascinating batch of oddballs. We have two different agencies that haven't a clue they're in each other's stakeouts. It makes for very interesting dynamics, especially when the volatile chemistry between Dominique and Dalton is flipped a hundred and eighty degrees from their actual tendencies. At Her Command is a very entertaining read.”

– Maîtresse, Novelspot

“AT HER COMMAND is a wonderful romantic suspense that leads you into the kinky world of a sex club. This is one book you don't want to miss.”

-- Rating: 4 – Gloria Gehres, The Romance Readers Connection

“AT HER COMMAND is an easy to recommend book...a hilarious and marvelous book full of action, suspense and racy love scenes.”

-- Sensuality & Realism Ratings: 10 – Letteta, Erotica Romance Writers

“This book starts off with a sex club and drugs, with murder and mistaken identities thrown in...a fun book.”

-- Rating: 4 Cups – Lainey, Coffee Time Romance

“AT HER COMMAND is an enjoyable story to escape into on a chilly autumn night. The characters and plot are engaging, with enough action, romance, and humor to stimulate any interested reader. Smokey, the Chinese Crested DEA drug dog, is a hilarious scene-stealer.”

– Kathy Samuels, Romance Reviews Today

“It’s Ms. James’ characters that make for a strangely seductive...and quirky love story. The Chinese Crested dog (think bald Chihuahua with a really bad fizzy wig) named Smokey...is a unique character. There’s something original about AT HER COMMAND. An entirely new blend of romance and police genres. I’ve been reminded of an Ann Rice novel.”

– Christine I. Speakman, Futures Mystery Anthology Magazine

"I just got finished reading At Her Command, and I loved it. It was sexy and HOT stuff. I felt many emotions right along side Domino and Dalton. I laughed trying to imagine playing a Dom to an Alpha male hero, Dalton, who was trying to act submissive when he is anything but. Even the dog got in on the action. Your characters were believable, and your villain was hateful. There will be sequels, right?"

-- Debbie E., Ontario, Canada

"I found all the humor and excitement I expected from Marcia James, plus a bonus: creative ideas to try with my husband at home!"

-- Pat E., Jackson WY

"I absolutely loved and adored reading Dom and Dalton's story. It was the perfect blend of suspense and comedy. It was a beautiful story, and I had tears coming down my face at the end. Dalton was a wonderful hero and Dom was a great heroine. I laughed throughout. I was sad to see it end."
